Kutztown University celebrated the recipients of its annual Academic Achievement Awards in a ceremony on April 24 in the McFarland Student Union. Faculty members nominate students after they have met one or more of the six areas of achievement. Areas in which achievement can occur include: successfully completed research projects, original artwork of high quality, artistic performances (music, chorus, drama, etc.) of high quality, original writing in literature or meritorious writing in other fields, noteworthy athletics, and outstanding service to the KU community. The Academic Achievement Award was established through a donation provided by Dr. Carlson Chambliss, KU faculty member from 1970-2003. The purpose of the awards is to recognize the exceptional individual achievements of a select group of KU graduating seniors. Specially designed coin medallions of gold, silver and copper were presented to the students. A complete list of award recipients can be viewed on the KU website.

Kutztown University's College of Business has been accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB). AACSB accreditation is considered the hallmark of excellence in business education and is the longest serving global accrediting body for the business schools that offer bachelor, master and doctoral degree programs.

The Office of Admissions will have summer tours available from May 27 through August 7 each weekday morning at 10:30 AM and on Monday and Friday afternoons at 2 PM, excluding holidays. They will have tours on most Saturdays at 10:30 AM. Interested prospective students and their families should call the Office of Admissions at 610.683.4060 to register for a campus tour.

(below) More than 3,000 Boy Scouts and their families will celebrate Jambo 2015 from May 15 to 17 here on the campus of Kutztown University. This is the area's largest scouting event and will offer many varied activities including crafts, scuba and kayak lessons, rock wall climbing, inflatables and family camping.

The Keystone Newspaper has published a yearbook. It is available here.

May is Military Appreciation Month – While you are enjoying the barbecues and parades this month, remember to pay tribute to and honor the sacrifices of our Armed Forces service members, veterans, and retirees; remember all the men and women who died while serving valiantly to defend our Nation; and remember the military family members who stand beside those who stand behind our flag, giving their all and making tremendous sacrifices. Do your part and celebrate the force and the force behind the force. Veterans Services
